Acknowledgement is made of the response filed in paper no. 9 and Ida in paper no. 7. Amendments are entered. No claims are allowed.

Applicants' arguments were fully considered and were found persuasive.

Therefore, previous rejections are withdrawn.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

1. Claims 26-37, 40-42, and 44 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 26 is very confusing. The claim states to have a composition "adapted for storage in a form of solid particles that may be solubilized as an aqueous solution for use as a sterilant..." What, specifically, does "adapted for storage" mean? Also, the clause "may be" is too open-ended and is unclear what the applicants intend to claim.

2. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 26-37, 40-42, and 44 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention.

Amended Claim 26 contains the subject, which is considered new matter. Applicant must show where the support is in the specification(s) for the amendments. For example, "adapted for storage" was not found in the specification(s).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

- 1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
- 2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
- 3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
- 4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

Claims 26-37, 40-42, and 44 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over US 5503765 (Schepers et al.) and US 5268003 (Coope

Application/Control Number: 10/052,908 et al.). Both references teach a dipercarboxlic composition which embraces the applicant's claimed invention.

Art Unit: 1616

US '765 discloses a non-aqueous liquid composition of dipercarboxylic acid, which is stable even at room temperature. It also teaches that this composition may be stably incorporated for five days or greater. It gives the same range (at least 0.1%) as the applicant's claimed invention. See the entire document, especially the abstract, lines 22-37 in Column 2, the examples, and claims.

US '003 discloses an aqueous liquid composition of dipercarboxylic acid, which is stable even at room temperature. See the entire document, especially lines 16-21 in Column 8, examples, and claims.

Examiner notes that US 003' does not disclose a range. However, with US

'765, it would have been obvious to those with ordinary skill in the art to put these two teachings together at the time of invention. There is enough motivation in the cited references to prepare the composition in the presently claimed invention. No unobvious or unexpected results are noted.

In the light of the forgoing discussion, the Examiner's ultimate legal conclusion is that the subject matter defined by the instant claims would have been obvious within the meaning of 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP

§ 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37

CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within

TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
